scosa appoints a new Chief Executive scosa, the Spastic Centres of South Australia Inc is proud to announce Nicole Graham as the new Chief Executive, as of 15th March 2010.

Qualified with a Master of Business Administration and Bachelor of Management (Employee Relations) she brings a wealth of skills and knowledge to the role, which are crucial to building on scosa's service excellence in supporting hundreds of South Australian's with disabilities to develop skills that enable them to contribute to their community.

For the past five years Mrs Graham has held senior management roles, including General Manager Client Services, and has established a respected reputation in the disability sector through active participation and representation on peak bodies and Government working parties.

Welcoming the new challenges and opportunities in the role, Mrs Graham looks forward to leading scosa on the next stage of its incredible journey and acknowledges the remarkable seven year contribution made by her predecessor Judy Curran.

"I am extremely excited to be taking on this position, especially in our 60th celebration year during which a year full of special events and activities showcasing our achievements are planned", she said.

scosa has achieved dramatic growth in client services, more than doubling services delivered, and re-establishing the scosa brand.
